WHAT YOU'LL DO

- Are you passionate about solving complex challenges and driving innovation in the automotive and manufacturing industries? At P3, we empower consultants to make a real impact by working on diverse projects that shape the future of mobility and production. If you thrive in dynamic environments, love collaborating with industry leaders, and want to bring cutting-edge ideas to life, this is your opportunity to grow with us. Your involvement in the following tasks will vary from project to project, based on both project requirements and your professional strengths:
- Implement consulting projects across diverse areas such as project management, process optimization, logistics, digitalization, quality management, production, supplier management, connectivity, e-mobility, manufacturing, and supply chain management.

WHO YOU ARE

- You have a Bachelor's or Master's degree in Engineering, Industrial Engineering, Business Administration, Supply Chain Management, or a related field.
- You have gained practical experience through internships, co-op programs, or entry-level roles within automotive, manufacturing, or consulting environments.
- You bring hands-on experience using AI-driven tools and data analytics for process optimization, decision-making, or business insights.
- You are self-motivated and driven with entrepreneurial spirit.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills, well spoken with powerful presentation skills, especially when interacting with customers.
